

The Print Issue of Program is Available Online

Please note that this copy was last updated on November 2nd, 2022. It is also the copy that will be distributed to members in print at the 2022 MMLA convention.

For an up-to-date version of the event schedule, please visit the online event schedule.

COVID-19 Statement

Statement on COVID-19 Health and Safety

Please review the 2022 MMLA Convention COVID-19 statement to ensure the health and safety of convention participants.

Professionalizing Workshops at the Convention

We will offer six (6) Professionalizing Workshops during the 2022 MMLA Convention:

- 6. Self-Editing for Clarity
- 21. Beyond a Plan B Framework: Alt Ac Careers
- 42. Navigating the Promotion and Tenure Process
- 68. Organizing a Successful Conference Panel/Seminar
- 95. Writing Productivity
- 123. Technology and Techniques for Successful Online Instruction

More information about each workshop is included in the program.

Plenary Round Table

Thursday, November 17th
Virtual

This Round Table discussion will be addressing the question:
What does the current discourse on banning Critical Race Theory, diversity, inclusion, and books about historical traumas in school systems mean for the future of higher education and a just society?

Keynote Address: Sarah Gendron

Friday, November 18th
In Person

The keynote speaker this year is Sarah Gendron, who will be examining the history of the relationship between money, politics, and higher education as a means of offering at least one explanation for the current state of affairs and suggestions for how to move forward "post-now."

Convention Hotel Reservation

November 17-20, 2022
Hyatt Regency Minneapolis
1300 Nicollet Mall
Minneapolis, MN 55403

Penalty-free cancelations can be made until three (3) business days prior to arrival.

The convention will be held virtually on November 17th. We will be in-person on November 18-19th.

Upcoming Issues of the JMMLA

The Journal of the Midwest Modern Language Association invites submission for its spring 2023 special issue focused on the theme "Affective Labor." The special issue editors seek essays from across historical periods that address the role of affective labor in literature, film, and media. We seek analyses of the role of kin work, caring labor, nurturing and maternal activities, of pink collar, gendered labor; and other ways in which the affective is put to work, broadly conceived.

The deadline for submissions has been extended to January 31st, 2023.

"Affective Labor"

Election Announcement

Elections for new members to the MMLA Executive Committee will be taking place shortly after the convention. If you are interested in candidacy, please send in a CV and a letter of interest to mmla@luc.edu.

If you have any questions, please email us or ask an Executive Committee member for details at the convention.

Newberry Library Fellowship

The MMLA is sponsoring a Newberry Library short-term fellowship. If you would like to apply, read more about our collaboration with the Newberry Library to support the in-residence fellowship.

The deadline for applications is December 15th.

